One of three Marble Archives on the continent (the other two are in Val Rouen and Suncrest), the Marble Archive of Riga is the foremost depository of knowledge in the Broken Kingdoms. While technically independent, Riga derives immense value from the Archive’s presence in the city and it’s considered one of Riga’s power sources.

The Archive is run by Archivist Asterion, who does his best to keep the Bank of Riga happy without getting involved in politics. Asterion and his librarians care deeply for the preservation of knowledge and do their best to keep dangerous texts from falling into the wrong hands.
