Archivist Asterion runs the Marble Archive in Riga. He's a member of the very small community of minotaur that survives in the Broken Kingdoms. Extraordinarily good at what he does, and politically savvy in the sense that he does everything possible to AVOID getting entangled in politics while keeping the Archive independent. That means a lot of placating the Bank of Riga in other ways, and he's not above brown-nosing when called for. He is prompt, succinct, organized, meticulous. He is a servant of Ioun, the Knowing Mentor, and probably a knowledge cleric, but does not advertise that fact or use any magic in public.
